LaVaLL snapbacks are made from twill or arcryl/wool. For the labels we use materials such as polular wood and leather, The leather labels are cut with the laser, the illustrations are laser-engraved. The use of state-of-the-art technology means that even fine structures can be reproduced. All materials are non-toxic. The leather comes from young German bulls, tanned only with natural minerals and plant substances. By using complete skins, which differ within the different regions of the body of the bull in color, thickness and fat and the skin of each animal to each other also differs greatly in these factors, it is ensured that each label looks different and thus receives its individual charm. This natural leather labels are very lively and changing due to external influences, for example water or sun.
